Dear Mardi Gras Guests and Friends of Methodist Hospital:

What an amazing and generous response to MARDI GRAS FOOD FEST! Thank you for being here tonight to support the Orthopedic Joint and Spine Pavilion at Methodist Hospital.

An evening like this doesn't happen, though, without the hard work of dedicated volunteers and we want to recognize co-chairs Dr. Stephen & Patty Soldo and Sherri Taylor, as well as their committee for creating an outstanding event. We're also grateful to all the restaurants, businesses, and individuals who contributed the wonderful food, beverages, and auction items that have made this another Mardi Gras to remember.

Of course, it wouldn't be Mardi Gras without "royalty" and we are proud to recognize Dr. John and Margaret Quigley. We are thrilled to have this opportunity to honor such a deserving couple for their many contributions to Methodist Hospital and our community. Join us in congratulating them tonight, they'll be the two leading the parade.

We also salute our top Mardi Gras Sponsor Congress Orthopaedic Associates. Their generosity and that of all sponsors at every level is integral in supporting the outstanding care Methodist Hospital provides.

Have a wonderful time tonight and take pleasure in the knowledge your support helps make this hospital a critical asset to the community we serve. Thanks again and laissez les bons temps rouler!

Sincerely,

Dan F. Ausman
President /CEO
Methodist Hospital

Mike Driebe
President
Methodist Hospital Foundation

Dear Mardi Gras 2018 sponsors, guests, and supporters,

BIENVENUE to the 23rd Mardi Gras Food Fest celebration! As we reflect on the history of this event, we are thrilled to see it continue to grow in popularity and become a significant fundraiser in support of Methodist Hospital.

We are thankful for your attendance this evening and hope you enjoy everything this event has to offer such as delectable cuisine provided by top local restaurants, refreshing libations, exciting auction items, and mysterious raffle boxes. We are also pleased to bring back the “80’z All-Stars” as tonight’s entertainment and our festive parade led by the Arcadia High School band, our honorees, and the members of the Mardi Gras Food Fest Committee.

Tonight’s success could not be possible without the generous support of our sponsors. We especially want to recognize our “Mardi Gras” Grand Sponsor – Congress Orthopaedic Associates for their generosity.

We also give recognition to our three “Carnivale” Sponsors – Arcadia Hospitalist Medical Group; Davita Healthcare Partners; Roger and Lilah Stangeland Foundation for their support of this event. We gratefully recognize the eight “Ragin’ Cajun” Sponsors – Dr. Michael Agron, EMMA, Inc.; Dr. Durdana Gilani, Dr. Hafeez Khan and Ms. Afahn Khan; Dick and Sue Hale; Dr. Grace Huang; OneLegacy; Dean Sloan and Go Green Lighting; Soyfoods of America; and Shone and Sherry Wang for their contributions and support. Also, to all Purple, Gold and Green sponsors recognized in our program, we appreciate your contributions.

Lastly, to the members of the Mardi Gras Food Fest Committee, we extend our sincerest gratitude for your investment of time, resources, and talent. Now, as they say in New Orleans “Laissez les bons temps rouler”, let the good times roll!

Sincerely,

Dr. Stephen Soldo, Co-Chair

Patty Soldo, Co-Chair

Sherri Taylor, Co-Chair

MARDI GRAS KING AND QUEEN DR. JOHN AND MARGARET QUIGLEY

To honor the selfless dedication and hard work on behalf of the patients and families of Methodist Hospital and the San Gabriel Valley region, we recognize Dr. John and Margaret Quigley as King and Queen of the Mardi Gras Food Fest 2018.

“We are honored and grateful to be part of such a wonderful community,” says John. “Mardi Gras has always offered friends and supporters of the hospital an opportunity to gather in a comfortable and jovial setting to enjoy one another's company.

“The hospital was built blocks from where I grew up,” says John, who now resides in Sierra Madre. “At that time, our family was blessed with excellent care from the hospital and still is to this day. Support for the foundation evolved from the gratitude our family has for the hospital and our community.”

John joined the Methodist Hospital Medical Staff in 1982 and was Chief of Medical Staff from 1999-2000; as a member of the Medical Executive Committee he served on numerous department committees. He also served on the Foundation Board 2002-2010 and returned onto the Foundation Board in 2012 and is currently serving in his second three year term. As a member of the Foundation Board, he was Chairman in 2015, participated in the Physician Champion program; was a member of the physician committee during the North Tower Capital Campaign; supported the Acute Rehabilitation Unit Campaign; and served on both the Mardi Gras and Crystal Ball committees.

Margaret is also very involved in her community and Methodist Hospital. She has served on the W.I.N. (Women Investing in Nurses) committee, which supports continued education for Methodist Hospital nurses. She is President of Friends of the Library and is a member of the Creative Arts Group in Sierra Madre. She is also a Docent for the Art Center College of Design and is involved with Christ Child Society of Pasadena. What she enjoys most, however, is being a grandmother to four lovely grandchildren.

One of the most satisfying things for the Quigleys has been to see how support for the Foundation from hospital employees and medical staff has grown. So, they are particularly appreciative that this year's event co-chairs are Dr. Stephen Soldo and wife Patty who, coincidentally, were the honorees at last year's event. In addition to the Soldos, Foundation supporter Sherri Taylor will also co-chair the event. Sherri has been part of the Mardi Gras committee for eight years and co-chaired the event previously.

“The Soldos have been dear friends and colleagues who have demonstrated outstanding support for the hospital and the Foundation, and Sherri has been a tremendous contributor to these efforts as well,” says John. “We are humbled by their work and their friendship.”

Mardi Gras 2018 will certainly be an event to remember. The event will offer delicious food from top San Gabriel Valley restaurants, festive dance music by 80's All-Stars, colorful costumes, new friends and a few surprises, all in support of Methodist Hospital.
